1 INTRODUCTION

As of 2016, the FEI Nations Cup™ will be run as a long term official Event series.

2 REGIONS

~~For the year 2016 the~~The world will not be divided into Regions but every FEI Nations Cup™ Event is potentially open for any country in the world.

3 FEI NATIONS CUP™ SEASON

The ~~2016-2017~~ FEI Nations Cup™ season for Dressage commences with the first FEI Nations Cup™ Competition of the year ~~2016-2017~~ and finishes with the last FEI Nations Cup™ Competition of the year ~~2016-2017~~. The FEI Nations Cup™ calendar consists of CDIO3*/4*/5* Events; however a CDIO does not automatically have to be part of the FEI Nations Cup™ series. The weekend prior to and all days during the FEI European Championships for Seniors, the FEI World Equestrian Games, FEI World Cup™ Final and the Olympic Games must be kept free of FEI Nations Cup™ Events. Notwithstanding this, all GR rules regarding date clashes must be respected, unless an exception is granted by the FEI.

FEI Nations Cup™ events on the same Continent may not clash in the calendar.

For the year ~~2016-2017~~ there is no intention to host an FEI Nations Cup™ Final. The final result and winner will be announced at the last FEI Nations Cup™ Competition of the year.

4 FEI NATIONS CUP™ EVENTS

In Europe not more than one CDIO may be held per season in the same country. It is the responsibility of each NF to select its CDIO.

4.1 List of Events

In ~~2016-2017~~ the FEI Nations Cup™ Series will consist of CDIO outdoor events that fulfil the calendar criteria stated under point 3, and that have declared that they would like to be part of the Series. The FEI will appoint the events participating in the series.

~~For the year 2016 there~~There is no limitation to the number of CDIO Events that can be part of the FEI Nations Cup™ Series.

4.2 Competitions / Format

The possible formats are:

- a. Grand Prix and a split of two (2) combinations in the Grand Prix Special and one (1) or two (2) in the Grand Prix Freestyle

Test	Team of four (4) Athletes	Team of three (3) Athletes
Grand Prix	4	3
Grand Prix Special	2	2
Grand Prix Freestyle	2	1

The Team Classification will be determined by adding up the three (3) best results per team in the GP and the two (2) best results in the GPS and the best result in the GPF.

In case of a tie the team with the best result in the Grand Prix Freestyle is ahead of the other.

It is at the discretion of the OC whether Teams of three (3) or four (4) Athletes will be allowed to enter (to be stated in the schedule). The same invitation system (three (3) or four (4) Athletes) must be equally applied to all Teams.

The Chefs d'Equipe decide which Athletes will start in the GPS and GPF.

- b. For CDIO 5* events the Olympic format may be used (Rio 2016 format without modifications)

The Team Classification will be determined by adding up the three (3) best results per team in the GP and the three (3) best results in the GPS. In case of a tie, the Team with the best result in the GPS is ahead of the other.
