With a deep passion for endurance riding and a strong commitment to promoting the sport's growth and development on a global scale, I am Enthusiastic to contribute my expertise, leadership, and vision to this honored role.

Throughout my career as a competitive endurance rider from 1999 to 2007, I achieved notable success, participating in numerous national and international events. In 2009, I had the honor of becoming an FEI Endurance & Jumping Official, serving in various roles such as Steward, Technical Delegate, Judge, member of the Organizing Committee (Events Director), and Independent Governance Advisor (IGA).

Additionally, I have led the Timing System development team since 2016, which received prestigious Recognition including the Steve Awards (Golden, Silver & Bronze) and certification by FEI on January 16, 2023. In 2023, as the Events Director of Emirates International Endurance Village (EIEV), I played a Crucial role in supporting organizing committees of endurance events in France, Australia, Romania, Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan and China.

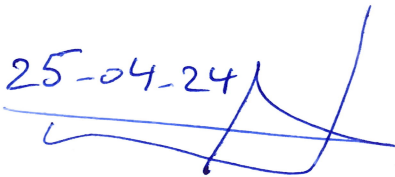

Most notably, in February 2024, under my leadership, EIEV achieved a remarkable feat by entering the Guinness World Records for hosting the largest horse welfare conference. Furthermore, I am currently leading a team of specialists to create and publish compelling media content focused on equine and, particularly, endurance sports.

As a candidate for the Endurance Chair position, I am firmly dedicated to upholding the welfare of horses, promoting fair play, and maintaining the highest standards of sportsmanship. If appointed, I will work towards creating a supportive environment characterized by transparency, accountability, and continuous improvement within the discipline of endurance riding.

Moreover, I am deeply passionate about expanding the global reach and popularity of endurance riding. I envision forging strong collaborations with national federations, event organizers, and stakeholders to develop effective strategies that promote the sport, attract new participants, and engage a wider audience.

The International Equestrian Federation's unwavering commitment to equestrian sports excellence and horse welfare resonates deeply with my personal values and aspirations. I am genuinely excited about the prospect of working alongside fellow equestrians and industry professionals to shape the future of endurance riding and strengthen FEI's position as a global leader in equestrian sports.
