IOC Athlete anti-doping testing during the Olympic Games - Reminder

All the Athletes entered to participate in the Olympic Games are subject to IOC anti-doping testing in the period from the opening of the Olympic Village (16 July 2012) until the Closing Ceremony (12 August 2012). Although this information has already been provided by NOCs, the FEI would like to bring again to the attention of the Athletes that during this period, they may be tested anywhere at any time. This includes Athletes who have not yet validated their accreditation or have already given it back.

The IOC will test for all the Prohibited Substances and Prohibited Methods on WADA’s 2012 Prohibited List. Therefore, at all times from 27 July to 12 August 2012 and regardless of their actual location, all participating Athletes should consider themselves as In-competition with respect to the Prohibited List.

Athletes, as always, should be extremely careful of any medication they put into their bodies and should be certain to verify through all possible means that they do not take anything that includes a Prohibited Substance. We take this opportunity to remind Athletes that there are substances on the Prohibited List that can be found in medications and supplements sold over the counter without a prescription in many countries.

For detailed information, please see the IOC Anti-Doping Rules applicable to the Games of the XXX Olympiad, London 2012 on FEI.org/London 2012.

IOC no-needle policy

During the period of the Olympic Games (27 July-12 August), any injection received by Athletes entered for participation must be medically justified, necessary and declared to the IOC Medical Director. See details FEI.org/London 2012.
