SHOWCASE YOUR TALENT TO THE WORLD

FEI Solidarity World Photo Grand Prix in association with Action Images, part of the REUTERS Group

FEI Solidarity and Reuters are on a quest to uncover new photographic talent both amateur and professional with the World Photo Grand Prix competition.

The nine categories (Professional Photographers, Amateurs and Enthusiasts, Abstract, Photography Students, Under 16 Years, Horse Portrait, Athletes, Equestrian Venue and Instagram) are varied and allow for artistic freedom loosely based around the theme of horses and equestrianism, from the iconic sporting shot to carrots and rocking horses, the sky's the limit.

An international and influential panel of judges with an eye for talent will review and chose the winning images.

The Judges

HRH Princess Haya (Jordan)

President of the FEI.

Bob Rosato (USA)

Chief Operating Officer of USA TODAY Sports Images.

Melissa Farlow (USA)

A freelance photographer who has contributed to NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC for more than 15 years.

Alan Whiter (Great Britain)

Vice President at Action Images, part of the Reuters Group.

Mark Adams (Great Britain)

International Olympic Committee Director of Communications since 2009.

Giuseppe Della Chiesa (Italy)

Renowned International Technical Delegate and Course Designer for Eventing.

Mrs Deirdre Lyons (USA)

Co-Founder and Director of Corporate Image and Design at Alltech, Inc.

Arnd Bronkhorst (The Netherlands)
