FEI Nations Cup™ Jumping 2017: Simply the Best.....

by Louise Parkes

It is the ultimate prize. It's about pride and passion, camaraderie, tradition, trust, skill, exceptional horsemanship and so much more.

Adored by the public, revered by all those involved in the sport, the FEI Nations Cup™ Jumping series has long been described as "the jewel in the crown" of the international governing body, the Federation Equestre Internationale.

2017 is a record-breaking season, with competitors from 50 nations stretching right around the globe competing in four separate qualifying leagues. There are a total of 19 qualifiers in 19 countries, and the aim from the outset is to make it to the Final in Barcelona (ESP) in September.

However many riders have already achieved more than they ever dreamed of before that comes around each year, having grasped the very essence of this superlative team contest that is all about bringing honour and glory to your country in a spirit of friendship, respect and sportsmanship.

Few have consistently demonstrated the sense of "team" better than the Dutch in recent years, but it is Germany who will be the FEI Nations Cup™ Jumping title-defenders throughout 2017.

The story of the German victory at the Final last autumn was very special, the legendary Ludger Beerbaum making his last team appearance for his country and his fellow riders so determined to make it a winning one for him that the four-time Olympic gold medallist never had to jump a fence in either round because they had already done all the hard work. Each country fields four horse-and-rider combinations, with the best three scores counting in each of two rounds.

The biggest qualifying league is Europe Division 2 with 19 nations including Belgium, Great Britain and Czech Republic who were all relegated at the end of last year. The promotion/relegation system ensures that competition in Europe Division 1 is all the sharper, and Italy's resurgence as a world power when returning to this top league last year is indicative of what the FEI Nations Cup™ Jumping series sets out to achieve by providing the perfect platform for development of horses, riders and team-work.

The French had all those ingredients, and more, when claiming Olympic gold last summer and with their formidable record can be expected to be ones to beat this season. However it is the North America, South America and Caribbean and Middle East Leagues that get the action underway when the new season explodes into action in seven days' time.

FEI Nations Cup™ Jumping - Simply the Best.....don't miss a hoofbeat!

Today, Longines' involvement in equestrian sports includes jumping, endurance and flat racing. Longines is a member of The Swatch Group S.A., the world's leading manufacturer of horological products.

The Rules & Team Qualification for Final

Under the FEI Nations Cup™ Jumping 2017 rules, the world is divided into six regions for the purpose of qualifying teams for the Final:

- Europe (Divisions 1 & 2) Div 1: 7 teams qualify for Final; Div 2: 2 teams qualify
- North, Central America & Caribbean 2 teams qualify USA & Canada are now qualified*
- Middle East 2 teams qualify Qatar & UAE are now qualified*
- South America 2 teams qualify
- Asia/Australasia 2 teams qualify
- Africa 1 team qualifies

Total teams qualify for the Final: 18 plus home nation if not qualified.*

There are 19 qualifiers for the 2017 season, with eight in Europe Division 1 and seven in Europe Division 2. The North America, Central America & Caribbean Region has three qualifiers and the Middle East has one qualifier. The season opened at Al Ain (UAE), with the CSIO5* running from 15-18 February 2017.

The FEI Nations Cup™ Jumping Final will once again be held at the Real Club de Polo of Barcelona (ESP), venue for the equestrian events at the Barcelona Olympic Games in 1992.

The nations

Qualifying events for all regions are run under the traditional two-round Nations Cup formula. To be eligible to participate in qualifying events for the Final, all nations must have a minimum of four riders in the Longines Rankings at the end of October the previous year.

For regions without qualifying events, the Longines Rankings have been used to determine the teams that qualified for the FEI Nations Cup™ Jumping Final.

The Final

The FEI Nations Cup™ Jumping Final 2017 has been allocated to Barcelona (ESP) and will take place from 29 September – 1 October 2017. The FEI Nations Cup™ Final will consist of three competitions, with all qualified teams starting in the first of these. This one-round competition, not against the clock, will decide the top eight teams that go through to the third and final competition. Teams placed ninth and lower will compete in the Challenge Cup (competition 2).

The eight teams that advance to the third competition, which decides the outright winner of the FEI Nations Cup™ Jumping Final, start on zero penalties. Four riders in each team compete in the first round, with a jump-off against the clock in the event of teams tied for first place after this round.

Only three riders per team go through to the jump-off, with no drop score, guaranteeing a thrilling finish to the series. The complete rules of the FEI Nations Cup™ Jumping 2017 are available on the FEI website HERE.
