FEI Reporting Hub

Everyone involved in our sport, has the innate right to be safe and treated with respect. The FEI will not tolerate any forms of abuse or misconduct as this goes against the best interests of our sport. The same applies to horses and it is our collective responsibility to be the guardians of horse welfare within equestrian sport.

Misconduct can occur in different ways and should always be reported. In order to facilitate the reporting process of any behaviour or incident that breaches the FEI Rules and/or the integrity of equestrian sport, we have created different categories with the appropriate reporting and contact information.

By clicking on the different categories below, you will have access to further information, as well as the appropriate reporting process.
