OLYMPIC SCHOLARSHIPS FOR COACHES
Update for the year 2020

The guidelines for this programme remain applicable and the following principles are currently in force due to the COVID-19 pandemic:

Policy for 2020 training programmes

As you are aware, a number of our partner centres have had to cancel their regular spring sessions due to the COVID-19 impact.

The implementation of these sessions later this year will depend on the evolution of the COVID-19 and the restrictions that will be in place at national and international level.

The fact that the virus is on a different timeline globally and the bans that will most likely be subject to different rules per country, will probably prevent the centres from carrying out their standard in-person modules in the course of this year. However, for some centres, this will represent an opportunity to pilot innovative on-line teaching concepts that will result in strengthening their overall programme.

Given the current level of uncertainty of what the 2020 autumn will look like, many of our partners have decided to go ahead with the application process for their 2020 trainings and take a final decision at a later stage.

As such, please do not be surprised if you receive new applications from us. We will rely on your usual technical input for the assessment of these candidatures.

Rest assured that we will continue to monitor the situation with our partners and inform all relevant parties whether the trainings will take place, and if so, in what form and under which conditions or on the contrary, if they will be cancelled.

For those IFs which are part of our network of partner centres as hosts of specific trainings, we will remain in contact regarding your respective training and particular situation.
