Application to be a member of the FEI Tribunal:

To whom it may concern,

I am applying to be a member of the FEI Tribunal. After reading the job specifications, I believe that I am suitable for this position, due to my varied experience. I attended the Law University of Tunis, and earned my bachelor degree in 1991, followed by my master's degree in 1994. I took private law as my speciality. I have been a lawyer for twenty-seven years now. My firm is specialised in company law, International Trade law, Trade Law, Contract Law, Banking and Finance Law, Social and Family Law, Tax Law, Heritage Law, Property Law, Intellectual Property Law, Maritime Law and Law of Carriage. For instance, my firm also resolves complex disputes in both domestic and international arbitration courts, specifically with the International Court of Arbitration (ICC).

I was designated to be an arbitrator by the tribunal, in addition to pleading cases as a lawyer in several arbitration cases, domestically and before the ICC in Paris. Furthermore, I was chosen to be an expert during the elections of the Tunisian Equestrian Federation in 2021. I got offered this opportunity due to my passion and admiration to horse riding. In addition to being a lawyer, I have been a Professor at the University of Law in Tunis for five years, in which I taught various topics, including international arbitration. These different positions expanded my interest and knowledge in arbitration. I have also always been passionate with horse riding, especially after my daughter started riding horses at a very young age, as I watched her grow and participate in different local competitions. My experience would allow me to be a suitable member of the FEI, due to my extended knowledge on different issues.

I have been a member of the International Union of Lawyers for twenty years, that allowed to participate in countless international conferences with the biggest English and French speaking law firms. I make sure to dedicate some time to attend the annual conferences, as I am always eager to learn more about the development of the law around the world. One of the responsibilities of being a member of the FEI is to attend and actively participate at Tribunal's meetings in person, which I would make sure to attend. I have also read the FEI Rules and Regulations and familiarised myself with the Tribunal's system. Furthermore, I am familiar with Swiss Law, as I have worked with different Swiss clients over the years.

I believe that I am a suitable candidate, as my varied experience allows me to be a good addition to the FEI. My passion for horse riding as a sport stems from my love towards horses as they are loyal and always help you reach the top. Please consider my application and don't hesitate to contact me if you need any additional information.

Dear Julie

The African Confederation of Equestrian Sports (ACES) would like to take this opportunity to support the nomination of an African Candidate for the FEI Tribunal. Mr Radhouane Elaiba is a member of the Tunisian Equestrian Federation and is currently acting as the lawyer for this Federation.

ACES believe that diversity and synergies between continents can only be advantageous for our sport. With the involvement of African candidates, skills and experience in the FEI can only lead to the spreading of this expertise in our continent on a local level.

Thank you for your attention and wishing yourself and the Nominations Committee all the best in your deliberations.

Yours sincerely on behalf of the ACES Board

Gayle Hanssen
